Industrial College Here On National Supply Tour

For the fourth successive year high ranking officers of the Industrial College of the Armed Forces visited the Torrance Plant of the National Supply Company, last Wednesday.

The visit was part of a scheduled familiarization program conducted by the Department of Defense.

Under the direction of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, this program is carried on at the highest educational level within the Department and is designed to prepare carefully selected officers of the Armed Forces for important positions in military service under industrial mobilization.

Includes Civilians

I. C. A. F. members include civilians as well as military personnel, in training for command, staff, procurement and logistic assignments.

Through these scheduled plant visits the members of the Industrial College class become familiar with manufacturing processes, developments, techniques and problems with which they could not otherwise become acquainted.

tour for the 18 members of the I. C. A. F. traveling group was their observation of the integrated manufacturing facilities of The National Supply Co.

Work Reviewed

National's works manager, J. D. Spalding, reviewed plant contributions to World War II and Korean productions requirements, with elaboration on the status of the Torrance plant in an emergency industrial mobilization.

Spalding said, "National takes special pride in the expressed confidence and approval of its state of preparedness, and in the esteem signified by its repeated selection of the Defense Department for industrial study."
